A close-up photograph of a vibrant green tree python (Morelia viridis) coiled on a dark, textured branch. The snake's scales are highly detailed, showing a fine, reticulated pattern. Its head is positioned in the center of the frame, with its eyes and nostrils clearly visible. The background is dark and out of focus, emphasizing the snake's bright color. A black rectangular box with the word "Python" in white serif font is overlaid in the upper right corner.
